

PRODUCT INFORMATION

Panel Rey® wants to share with you the following facts about its gypsum board process and raw material:

- Our high grade gypsum comes from natural quarries located at the town of Mina, Mexico; just miles away from our facilities. Our products are almost 85% in weight of pure gypsum and raw gypsum from our quarry is also used for other products and processes including food and beverages.
- Panel Rey® has never used synthetic gypsum in any production process of any of our product lines.
- All other raw material is provided from world wide recognized firms located in United States of America and Canada, only.
- Panel Rey® does not use recycled gypsum board from any external source or third parties, all the recycled gypsum content comes from our same process rejection, so it has never been exposed to other material or unusual conditions.
- Panel Rey® has never purchased, rebranded or distributed any gypsum wallboard other than its own international and registered brand. All our products are properly marked, identified and dated to ensure traceability.

Panel Rey® is committed to ensure product quality and long term customer satisfaction by using the highest quality control procedures.
